Our tradeshow coverage continues with a set of previews from the Compass footwear show held this week in NYC. First up are two looks from the Chippewa Boot Company. We love their code of craftsmanship. "The finest leathers and materials, innovative technology, and more than a little patience go into making boots of this caliber. That's why Chippewa Boots® will always be firmly planted in every landscape of our great nation as well as in the hearts of all who wear them." (photography: Jacob Krupnick)
